HOME MISSIONS.

THE TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Board of Home Missions respectfully presents to the General Assembly its eighty-eighth annual report—its twentieth since reunion.

We record our humble and earnest thanks to God for His gracious exemption of the Board from the loss of any member or officer by death, and for His manifest guidance and blessing in the enlargement and general prosperity of its work during the year. Our gratitude is also due for the harmony and zeal which have marked the proceedings of the Board, and for the general approbation its work has received from the great constituency which it represents and serves. The steady general increase of the Board's income may be fairly taken as a most gratifying and encouraging vote of confidence in the Board as the Church's tried and trusted agency in the work of home evangelization, and also as an unmistakable proof of the unchangeable purpose of the intelligent and powerful body of American Christians who stand behind it to prosecute this sacred enterprise with unremitting energy until the great and glorious results it contemplates shall be fully achieved. The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in kindly emulation with sister evangelical churches, is bent on doing a generouslycomputed share of the great work of making God's law and gospel the pervading and dominant influences which mould and control the republic; and the Board of Home Missions is the strong right hand with which it means, under God, to do the work.

The Rev. Wilson Phraner, D.D., resigned during the year, and the Rev. James M. Ludlow, D.D., was appointed to fill the place thus made vacant in the Board until the meeting of this General Assembly.

We record with sorrow the removal by death of twelve missionaries during the year. Their names are as follows:

Rev. WM. I. BRUGH, D.D...Kentucky. EDWIN G. BRYANT... Michigan. JOHN B. COMBS.......Kansas.

BENJ. S. CROSBY . . . . New York.

DON M. DOCKERY.... California.

DAVID GREYCLOUD. . . S. Dakota.

Rev. SAMUEL G. HAIR ......Florida.

JOHN McCRAE .......Kansas.

EDMUND H. POST.....Florida. DANIEL J. ROBERTSON. . Kansas.

S. N. ROBINSON..... New York.

C. C. WALLACE, D.D... Florida.

A VERY GOOD YEAR.

The year's work, on the whole, has been attended by marked and manifest prosperity. As in most years, it has encountered serious obstacles. Floods in Western Oregon, so great as to hinder for weeks the transmission of the mails, have made anything like continuous church services in many places impossible. Unusually heavy snow-falls in the Northwest and about many of the mountain regions and passes have embarrassed religious as well as material interests. Some five thousand persons are said to have been on the verge of actual famine in North Dakota; and churches and missionaries have had their share of the pinch and pressure. Some of the older States have suffered additional losses by removals. rush into Oklahoma almost effaced some, and sadly weakened many more, of our churches in the southern tier of Kansas. The widespread failure of the vine in California has reduced whole communities to comparative poverty. Three churches in one presbytery, which had reached self-support, were forced back upon the aid of the Board, one of them losing sixty members by removal. And yet the great work of home evangelization and church extension has steadily widened and strengthened and gained ground. One hundred and nine more missionaries have been employed than in any previous year. In a large part of the country the unusually mild and open winter has permitted and facilitated continuous maintenance of church services, which has greatly furthered both the temporal and the spiritual interests of the congregations. There has been in many places more than usual evangelistic activity, often with large resultant increase. There has been a deepening of the impression already long prevalent among the people, that a properly-founded and wisely-organized Presbyterian church is both a beneficent and a permanent institution. The work has not lacked the Divine benediction. The gracious Spirit of God has in many places turned the wilderness into a fruitful field. The churches aided by the Board have received 9,795 on confession of faith, and 7,091 by certificate; 16,886 communicants in all. 200 churches, and .578 Sunday-schools have been organized, and 30 churches have assumed self-support, often with emphatic and grateful acknowledgment of the fostering care which has lifted them to independence.

THE THIRD CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

The Board has unanimously elected as its third Secretary the Rev. Duncan J. McMillan, D.D., President of the College of Montana. To the great satisfaction of the members and officers of the Board, he has accepted the post, and already entered on his work. Dr. McMillan was the Board's pioneer missionary to the Mormons. Under his management the College of Montana has attained a front rank among the younger educational institutions of our Church. He will bring to the Board's service the prime of his powers and a large and special experience.

OUR MISSIONARIES.

The missionaries aided by the Board during the year number 1,701. They have served some 4,000 churches and stations. They constitute a noble brigade of soldiers of the cross. A large proportion of them are men of marked capabilities and fine equipment for their sacred calling, and as a body their devotion and fidelity are beyond all possible earthly appreciation and reward. Their wives, and often their sons and daughters as well, are their worthy and willing helpers. Their aggressive activity is at least equalled by their patient endurance. They would be the last to desire that the harder phases of their experience should be over-stated in this report; but it accords with simple fairness and sober truth to say that the pinch and stress they not infrequently feel when remittances from the drained treasury of the Board are inevitably withheld for weeks after they are due, should be borne in mind, as urgent arguments for increased contributions from the Church at large.

But praise of our missionaries goes without saying. The available space in this report may be better employed in urging the increase of their number. The great need of the hour is more men for the work. It is as true to-day as it was when the Master said it, that "the laborers are few." Their number, indeed, steadily increases, but the work grows far faster. If one-third of the eight hundred students or so in our thirteen theological seminaries become ministers this spring, the Presbyterian Church will put into the work this year one for each three thousand communicants. Some in addition to these are obtained from other Christian communions. But the entire supply is sadly behind the demand. Calls outnumber candidates. The field widens more rapidly than the tilling and reaping.

The Board respectfully asks the Church seriously to consider the causes of this shortcoming. Who is to blame for it? The fault must be within the Church itself. There are young men enough. They crowd into every other calling. And the young men themselves are not alone to blame. Pastors do not ply and urge them as constantly and earnestly as they might with the claims of this sacred service. Parents too often allow or encourage their sons to leave the ministry out of the question in their choice of a lifework. There are many large, strong, prosperous congregations, especially in the great cities, which year after year furnish not a single candidate for the pulpit out of their hundreds of bright and noble youth. How can the Church consistently deplore the lack of ministers and missionaries when it fails to lay holy hands on its own children for this high calling? If, out of the army of strong and capable youth who graduate every year into active life from Presbyterian families, even a single thousand should each year be led by human persuasion and Divine guidance to enter the ministry, who would venture to say that this is in excess of that "living sacrifice" which the Church is called to lay on her Redeemer's altar? The generous congregations thus devoting their best and brightest would be enriched by their own depletion, and thrive afresh spiritually by the healthful stir of this sacred emigration. The noble offering would inspire the whole Church with a new and heavenly ambition, and win the enriching benediction of God.

FINANCES.

The year opened with a debt of $33,337.89. Home Missions proper had a balance in its favor of $4,236.08, while the account of Teachers and Chapels, New York Synodical Aid Fund, and Sustentation had deficits respectively of $27,619.47, $9,829.02, and $165.48, giving net deficit as above. The receipts of the first six months, from all sources, showed an increase of $55,000, and those of the first ten months an increase of $97,000, over the same months of the previous year. But there was a falling off in February of $11,000, and in March of $85,000, as compared with the year before. Collections from congregations for Home Missions proper show a falling off of $19,814 from last year. The total amount contributed to the Board from all sources during the year has been $831,170.40; for current work, $809,094.61; for N. Y. Synodical Aid Fund, $11,672.99; for permanent and trust funds, $4,700.00; for sustentation department, $5,702.80. The Board closes the year with a balance against it of $80,391.94. Of this, $13,021.27 is on account of Teachers and Chapels, $28,551.33 on account of New York Synodical Aid Fund, $38,819.34 on account of Home Missions proper—that is, aid to churches in the support of ministers.

The General Assembly of 1887 asked for an income for the Board of $800,000, and the Church gave only two per cent. less. The Assembly of 1888 asked for $850,000. Once more the Board received only about two per cent. less, or $832,647.56. The Assembly of 1889 recommended an income of $875,000, or only five and one-quarter per cent. advance on the receipts of the previous year. So moderate a proposed advance it seemed reasonable to expect to be realized. It is somewhat disappointing that the great Presbyterian Church, having stood by the Board's work so staunchly for some years past, should this year fall so far short of the moderate ratio of proposed increase, and the forecast of the General Assembly, to say nothing of the fast-growing needs and the clamorous calls from all quarters for new work. There has been no undue or hasty expansion. The moderate increase in expenditure in the earlier months seemed justified by the then increasing receipts. Since then the Board has resolutely declined to increase appropriations whenever possible.

The only remedy for this shortcoming is a constant and general effort to obtain contributions from all congregations and Sunday-schools, and a patient cultivation of the gracious habit of Christian giving, especially among the young. There is no more encouraging sign for the future than the large amount and the rapid increase of gifts to Home Missions from the young people of our congregations in Sabbath-schools and societies; and this interest should be fostered and expanded, as a sure guarantee for the next generation.

The attention of the General Assembly and the Church, especially the men of business who are interested in our work, is called to the fact, as made plain in the experience of this and previous years, that a large increase is desirable in the amount of invested funds which the Board is authorized to use as collaterals for loans. During at least the summer months of every year the Board's outgo so far exceeds its income that large loans are absolutely necessary. full limit of the Board's credit was reached this last season, at a time when further loans to a moderate amount and for a brief term would have enabled the Treasurer to pay promptly many missionaries who had to wait for weeks. The collaterals now available for loans for general work are only about $75,000, and those specially available for woman's work not more than $7,000. An increase of the funds thus available to double the present amount would greatly facilitate the work. When it is kept in mind that from April to November, for several years past, beyond the Board's power to help it, its outgo has exceeded its income by $1000 to $1500 every day, it will be seen how desirable and vital is this increase of basis for necessary loans.

The Treasurer's report will furnish all necessary financial details.

NON-CONTRIBUTING CHURCHES.

Of the 6,727 churches reported to the last General Assembly, 1880, or about twenty-eight per cent., made no contribution to the Board of Home Missions. It would be natural enough to conclude at first thought that these churches would be found in the list of those aided by the Board as unable even to support themselves. It should be known and noted, however, that the fact is just the contrary. There is no one of its rules on which the Board more positively insists than the requirement of a Home Mission collection from every church aided by its funds. A failure in this is always noted, and the delinquent church is required to make the omission good. However small the contribution may be in proportion to the aid extended, it is none the less insisted on, and with hardly an exception it is actually paid. The non-contributing churches, then, whether weak or strong, are not the Home Mission churches. This puts the case of these non-contributing churches in a new light, and not a pleasant or creditable one. It is painfully unsatisfactory that so large a number of congregations which can and do bear the expense of their own church privileges should habitually give nothing to mission work at home, to say nothing of that abroad. How to bring these churches to admit and perform their duty is a problem which the Board has long sought in vain to solve, and to which the Church at large should seriously address itself. remedies for the evil are doubtless to be found in various directions. Every pastor and stated supply should make it his business to see that this cause, whether popular or not, is annually presented to and pressed on his people for their contributions. Elders and deacons should fulfill their bounden duty as ordained church officers to stand by their pastor and brace him up to the work, instead of disheartening and hindering him by apathy or even positive discouragement, as is no doubt often the case; and they should be especially forward in urging a collection when the pulpit is vacant, and in securing prompt remittance of the proceeds, a point not infrequently neglected. A stated clerk in a strong country presbytery some years ago, by a little urgent correspondence, prevailed on half-a-dozen negligent churches to fill half or two-thirds of the previously vacant columns. An active and resolute elder in the Presbytery of Rochester a year or two since plied the delinquent congregations with appeals until all had given to this Board, except two; and, not succeeding with these, at the last minute he sent contributions for them out of his own pocket, in anticipation of their own action, and thus filled the Board's blanks that year. A Home Mission committee that means business, or a single determined minister, could partially or wholly remedy this fault in every presbytery; and there is hardly a non-giving congregation in which there is not some one elder who might, if he would, secure at least some small contribution to the Board, however indifferent or disaffected the people might be.

RAILROADS.

These constitute a stock topic in a Home Mission report. Railroads sustain a relation to the country's development and history which is unique and unparalleled. They are the nerves of the Nation's life, the standard of its growth, the indices of the march and move of its population. They push onward into regions where emigration has preceded them; or they lead the way by making channels through which the living tide is sure to pour. Our immense railway system is the growth of the last sixty years. There were twenty-three miles in 1830. In 1861, when the civil war broke out, there were 31,000 miles. In 1890 there are nearly 170,000 miles, or almost half the mileage of the world, and six times as much as in Germany, whose railway mileage ranks next. The largest annual increase has been 12,872 miles in 1887. The last nine years have added at least 68,000 miles. The present season promises greater activity in railway construction than has marked any previous year. There are some five thousand miles in process of construction, seven thousand miles surveyed or under survey, and nearly three thousand miles so seriously projected and pushed, that they will probably be either completed or fairly begun before the close of the year—a total of nearly 15,000 miles. The larger part of the construction of the last few years has been in the Central West, Northwest and Southwest. The bulk of the pending enterprises is in the South and Southwest, in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and in Montana, Oregon and Washington. In the last two States three hundred miles were finished between February 1st and March 15th, and 1500 more are to be completed within two years. All along the vast and rapidly growing extent of these prodigious railway lines, especially in the newer regions, the natural increase of our population, the immense multitudes of foreign immigrants, and the swarms of restless seekers for better fortunes have been or will be speedily distributed. The new settlements are at first generally small and weak, and the people mostly poor. The settlers are, as a rule, unable to provide and maintain religious privileges for themselves, and very largely also indisposed to make efforts or sacrifices to secure them until their worldly circumstances are improved. If the Gospel and the Church are to reach them with elevating and saving influences in their formative period, they must have encouragement and pressure and material aid from without. The religious hope and opportunity of the new settlements of the land are to be found alone in the steady and tireless pushing of the work of Home Missions.

THE FIELD.

This report will not admit of anything like a complete sketch of the whole vast field, but some large sections of it seem to call for special notice and detail.

THE NORTHWEST.

The Synod of Columbia includes Oregon, Washington, Alaska, and one presbytery in Idaho. It covers, without Alaska, 178,000 square miles. The region is of itself a broad and grand Home Mission field, in which there are need and scope for ten-fold the men and money as yet devoted to it. Washington is a young but mighty State, with 250,000 people, and thousands pouring steadily in. Gray's Harbor is one of the best harbors on the Pacific coast, and is sure to attract commerce and population. We have already an organized church at Aberdeen, near it, and there are other important points on its shores. Puget Sound is a noble inland sea, on whose shores great cities are growing up, and vast industries rapidly developing. Port Townsend, whose great expectations have tarried, may soon have the stimulus of a railway terminus. Our church there has just entered its new edifice, and is prospering well. The land around Dungeness, near by, is said to raise one hundred bushels of wheat to the acre. Seattle is rising from its ashes, and pushing toward the foremost place on the Sound. Tacoma has had a marvellous growth of values and business, and holds its own in the van of progress. It has a population of 30,000, having trebled in five years. It has three live Presbyterian churches, where there was but one eighteen months ago. The Northern Pacific Railroad, already in operation from Tacoma to Seattle, will soon be extended further northward to meet the Canadian Pacific at Anacortes, on Fidalgo Island-a point already occupied by an organized church and a missionary of the Board. and whose prospective and not distant importance may be inferred from its growth from eight buildings and two hundred people in December last, to one hundred and fifty buildings, one hundred tents, and more than two thousand population in March. Fidalgo City, on a fine bay on the southeast of the island, is rapidly increasing in population. It is at the head of the strait of San Juan de Fuca, and separated from the mainland only by a creek. Yakima to the south is the centre of a very fertile tract, which must fill up rapidly. The Oneida Community has bought 170,000 acres east of it for fifty cents per acre, which, when irrigated, will sell up to $25 per acre. The section east of the Columbia is rapidly opening up. Large transfers of land indicate a new influx of population. Spokane Falls is being rebuilt with new ambition and promise. In Pasco the railway authorities have made a liberal offer for the founding of an academy, and there are signs of great and rapid growth. Great tracts of this region, like the Walla Walla valley in the southern part, though almost without rainfall, grow the best varieties of wheat ("club", and "blue-stem"), without irrigation, up to fifty bushels per acre, and will surely attract a large agricultural population. The memories of Whitman and Spaulding invite hereabouts the utmost missionary effort.

Oregon has a population of three hundred thousand, which is fast increasing. Portland's suburbs have several struggling congregations which will one day hold large places in the church system of a great city which will then overspread and include them all, as the metropolis of the Northwest. The Presbyterian Alliance is reaching out from the city's strong and prosperous centre to foster these infant enterprises, and should do this still more freely, in co-operation with the steady aid of the Board. Southwestern Oregon is a wonderful fruit-growing region, equal as such to Northern California, and will soon fill up with a large population. The railroads are pushing through the mountain gaps to several fine harbors on the coast, where in the near future populous cities must stand. The Union Pacific Railway will soon reach tide water at Tillamook. Coos City and Empire City have harbors with twenty feet of water. Our Church has laid extensive foundations, and already supports a large number of devoted workmen in that fair region; but the work should be buttressed and broadened at once, and prompt and generous outlay for this will surely bring a rich return. Umatilla County, in northeastern Oregon, with its reservation for the Indian tribe of that name, should soon have a school for this and neighboring tribes on the quarter section recently granted by government to the Board for that purpose. Union County adjoining, with its beautiful lake Walloma, has open fields which should be soon and strongly occupied. Baker City, the county seat, should be well manned and reinforced as a radiating centre. Prineville, in Crook County, in the heart of the State, is an important and inviting point. Indeed, the vast counties in all that broad and splendid region, many of them as large as some Eastern States, all contain strategic points, which, if men and money were forthcoming, could soon be impressed and controlled by Christian influences. Idaho, whose rich resources have hardly yet been touched by the hand of development, is on the verge of statehood. Post Falls should have a Presbyterian church, and other places are within our This synod is calling for thirty new men.

Last year's report chronicled the admission to statehood of the two Dakotas. The two cover 151,000 square miles between them, or about the same area as Montana, the great Rocky Mountain State then also admitted. Our Home Mission work in Dakota has been almost entirely accomplished in the last dozen years. North Dakota has about 250,000 people. The past year has been a very hard one. From crop failures it has been reported that five thousand people were at one time on the verge of actual famine. Poverty and removals have forced many changes of ministers. It has been almost impossible to raise the people's part of salaries. Missionaries have incurred great hardships and anxieties. In January, thirty-three churches, or one-third of those in the three presbyteries, were reported vacant. Some of these have but a nominal existence, but many are important. The severe winters render this splendid region less attractive than some otherwise far inferior. But these drawbacks are but partial or temporary, and the work is going steadily onward with promise of enlargement and success.

South Dakota has about 400,000 people. Our missionaries have done much hard and fruitful work. The last meeting of synod reported the organization during the year of one presbytery, twentyone churches, and one hundred and twenty Sabbath-schools, the addition of eight hundred members by confession of faith, and four thousand two hundred children to Sabbath-schools, and the completion of nine church edifices and three manses. The Black Hills Presbytery covers a fine stock and farming region. Eight churches have been organized there during the year, and contributions and membership have been more than doubled. A dozen men are wanted for vacancies and new work. The recent opening of the Sioux reservation will invite a large influx of white population, besides giving the right of suffrage to five thousand Indians. It is said that by the next presidential election there will be twenty thousand Indian voters in the land; a strong argument for pressing school and mission work among them.

The vast and rich expanse of the young State of Montana affords a noble field for Home Mission work. Good beginnings have been made, and many important points strongly occupied; but laborers and stations should be speedily multiplied. There will be a renewed survey of the field this year, and the most vigorous efforts possible with the means at the Board's command to expand and speed the work. The force there of about a score of ministers should be doubled this year. Chotean, Barker, Castle, Neihart, Philbrook and Lewistown are points which demand immediate attention.

THE SOUTHWEST.

The Synod of the Pacific includes California and Nevada. The latter State is not advancing in population and prospects, and evangelistic work, though persistently pressed, finds but limited encouragement and success. We have an unoccupied church and manse at Eureka, which should be manned. The State needs four or five men. In California the work of Home Missions, grandly successful in recent years, is retarded by some special drawbacks. The three hundred Presbyterian churches, with an average of little more than sixty members each, are mostly poor and dependent, and just now largely and specially depressed by financial embarrassment. The vast wealth of the State is mostly as yet not tributary to the Kingdom of Christ. The colossal fortunes which have been piled up around the Golden Gate are not yet tithed for Christian enterprises. An earnest effort has been made during the past winter to widen and complete the now meagre equipment and endowment of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in San Francisco—the success of which would greatly tend to the furtherance of Home Missions on that coast, by providing what is probably the most pressing need of the work in that region to-day, a larger supply of trained and able ministers. One gentleman offered a most advantageous site in a beautiful suburb of San Francisco, and another subscribed $250,000 for additional endowment, on condition that $50,000 should be raised outside. It is probably safe to say that if this aid from abroad could be obtained, the $300,000 of endowment thus secured to the Seminary, with its new site and buildings, would raise it to such dignity and prestige as to inspire new appreciation and confidence, and command large benefactions in its own neighborhood, putting it beyond any further need of Eastern help. The trained ministers who would then be supplied to the churches which now find it next to impossible to get them, would lift weak congregations speedily to self-support; and the Board of Home Missions would thus be largely relieved both of the care of churches which it has long aided, and of the costly necessity of sending ministers across the continent, if they can be obtained at all.

Texas is an empire in itself. It would cover almost six New Yorks. Most of its vast area is as fertile as a garden. It could sustain the whole population of the Union, and grow cotton enough for all the world. Its development of late years has been marvellous. Millions of acres of its prairie, but lately empty and bare, are now dotted with thrifty homes and rich with teeming harvests. No less remarkable has been its improvement in order and morality and religion. Our own Synod of Texas, which ten years ago was so feeble and discouraged that the General Assembly debated the expediency of abandoning the field, has since more than doubled its membership, and is pushing its difficult work with admirable patience and courage. Our strong and zealous synodical missionary should have his heart cheered by the speedy doubling of the thirty home missionaries now in that field. Much has been hoped from coöperation with the Southern Church, as arranged by the two Assemblies. The experiment has hardly been long enough tried to show whether or not it will serve the great ends of fraternity and economy.

Arizona is a hard and trying field. Population is sparse. Iniquity and indifference abound. Living is high, and mission work costly. And yet it will be agreed that though obstacles are great and success is slow and small, earnest evangelistic effort should not be withheld from a region where, it is said, whole settlements have had no gospel ordinances within hundreds of miles for a dozen years. Arizona and New Mexico have just been included in the new Synod of New Mexico. In the latter Territory the evangelistic problem is to transform into American Christians the Indians and Mexicans who now form the large majority of the people. The most effective and promising part of the work done to this end is in our Indian and Mexican schools, further noticed under woman's work. Some of our missionaries and evangelists, however, both American and Mexican, have labored with great zeal and large success. Rev. James Frazer, until lately in charge of a wide field near Las Vegas, has reported the accession of one hundred and nine Mexicans by confession of faith during his last year of labor.

Last year's report called for ten men for Oklahoma, now just one year old, and already almost entirely occupied by a large population. Congress has so recently passed the legislation necessary for its organization, that titles, values and business are not yet fully settled; but the Board has six men already appointed and at work at Guthrie, Oklahoma City, Edmond, Norman, Kiugfisher and Reno, and one or two more may be added. Church buildings have been finished and occupied at Kingfisher and Oklahoma City, and others will be erected before long. The "Cherokee strip" or "outlet," between Indian Territory and Kansas, some sixty miles by two or three hundred, will probably soon be opened and populated, and form a new and large field for mission work.

THE MIDDLE WEST.

Just forty years ago the first Presbyterian church was organized in Minnesota. To-day, in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, with a joint population of over four hundred thousand, and fast growing together into one great metropolis, some forty points, churches and stations, are held, and the two Presbyterian Alliances are pushing church extension. The work of Home Missions in the whole synod is healthful and advancing, notwithstanding the hindrances of severe drought and many removals. A score or more of churches have been organized during the year. Here is concentrated a mighty mass of the foreign peoples whose evangelization needs and demands the Church's utmost energy of effort. Of the State's one and one-half millions of people, one-third-some say more—are foreign-born, and mostly foreign-speaking; and from one-quarter to one-third of all the Scandinavians in the land are here. Among Swedes and Norwegians and Bohemians work has been begun, and will be pressed and extended as fast as men fit to carry it on can be found.

Presbyterian interests in Wisconsin have relatively lost ground for three years in comparison with those of some other denominations, for want of steady and watchful supervision. The first year's work of a new synodical missionary has given them a fresh impulse. Like Minnesota, it has a very large foreign element, probably two-thirds of its population of one million and three-quarters, nearly one-half being German. La Crosse, out of 32,000 people, has less than one-fourth English-speaking. Milwaukee has two-thirds German. It has one Holland church, but as yet no German. Two German churches there are now proposed. A German missionary at large, and also a Norwegian, are wanted there at once, and when found will be at once employed. New fields and calls for work have been created by the large and rapid railroad extensions. The Sault Railroad has built five hundred and seventy-five miles in fifteen months, and our Church has as yet occupied none of it. In two years the Lake Shore and Western has built three hundred and fifty miles, and the Wisconsin Valley one hundred and fifty. Our Congregationalist brethren have organized twenty-two churches in five years. The proper Presbyterian share of the work must be pushed with speed and vigor, and will be, if the men and means are forthcoming. We have eight German churches in the State, and should have many more. Twenty-two men are needed at once, including three Bohemians, six Germans, and three Scandinavians.

Iowa has suffered very much from depletion by removals to newer States, but our work there has been admirably managed and vigorously pressed. The southwestern part is as fertile a region as the sun shines on.

Missouri has suffered through its two years' lack of a synodical missionary. It has now a new and experienced superintendent, who is seeking out the weak places, filling the gaps, and stirring up church interests and enterprises in all the presbyteries. There is room for more speed and pressure in the staunch and sturdy Presbyterian fellowship of that great State, and more may be looked for before long. Thirty more men are urgently needed. There are churches which might soon reach self-support if each could have the entire attention of a pastor. Many congregations seem too content to hold on to outside aid, and need to be aroused and instructed in the direction of self-help. The Board has a right to demand vigorous cooperation from those whom it willingly assists. Indifference and slackness among the people are among the chief eauses of stagnation and failure. A sister denomination, it is said, has disbanded fifty-three churches in the State in the last five years. Similar waste and defeat are not unknown in our own work here as elsewhere. Our field is large and inviting. Palmyra Presbytery has a territory larger than New Jersey. In Platte Presbytery two hundred and eighty miles of railroad were built last year. synod includes Arkansas, where our work is as yet limited. church at Hot Springs, long weak and discouraged, has had better prospects of late under the good work of the Rev. Thomas Marshall, and some new fields are proposed.

In Kansas, our church work has specially suffered by emigration. The population of the State, which was more than a million and a half last year, is said this year to have lost 53,000, or three and one-half per cent. This report has already referred to the serious, sometimes ruinous, losses in this way of our churches along the southern line. There has been also partial failure of crops. And yet it is said that the State added last year a million and a half of acres to its tilled area, and has reached the first rank in the yield of wheat and corn. The sure result of this will be to increase both the need and the promise of our church work, which during the year has been persistently active and steadily successful.

In Colorado few vacant fields are reported. The Mexican work has been going on grandly, and the schools are full. A number of elders have aided in a canvass of a part of the field, with a helpful and stimulating effect, and there have been some revivals. Some churches have reached self-support. A number of men are wanted. Wyoming is soon to be a State, and will need more laborers.

The work in the noble State of Nebraska goes quietly and steadily on, with constant if not brilliant progress. Our churches there have more than doubled in the last nine years. Omaha is a strong and well-manned Presbyterian centre. A Bohemian church has just been organized there. In Lincoln, the capital, a second and third enterprise are under way. Men are needed at a number of points.

THE SOUTH.

Vast and rapid as is the development of the Northwest, that of the South, in many parts at least, has of late been not far, if at all, behind it. Northern capital and Northern skilled labor have entered many sections together, and these have furnished openings and fields, some of which our Church has entered with vigor and success. Last year's report told of the beginning of our work in northern Alabama. The new Presbytery of Birmingham is gaining size and strength in spite of hindrances, the chief of which is inveterate sectional prejudice. In Anniston and Sheffield and New Decatur beautiful church buildings have been finished and occupied, and solid progress has been made. In Birmingham we have a missionary, but no edifice, though the field is the largest and perhaps the best of all. It is intended soon to organize and build at Thomas and at Ensley, suburbs of Birmingham. In Tennessee the rural churches do not seem to gain much ground. Poverty and prejudice and emigration hinder progress. The young people have largely gone away. And yet these weak churches are said to be furnishing more than their proportion of missionaries and teachers, both male and female. An English company has just bought a large mineral tract in East Tennessee, in which two prospective towns have been already located, which will soon assume importance, and which our Board has been urged to occupy at once. In Kentucky the work is hard and slow, and yet is steadily maintained. Florida has hardly recovered from last season's terrible visitation of yellow fever, and the work is retarded by the poverty of the people, and interrupted by absenteeism in summer. The orange crop will probably double next year, and improved circumstances will give impulse to church and mission enterprise.

SYNODICAL AID.

There is not much to add this year to what was said on this topic in the reports of last year and the year before. The plan of the Synod of New Jersey has resulted in complete success. The synod has cared for its own dependent churches, and has given the Board more than before for outside work. The Synod of Pennsylvania has not yet been able to shoulder the full burden, and the Board has borne a share of it; but the plan is resolutely pushed, and will probably succeed in time. The Synod of New York is still further behind. Somewhat less money has been raised for Home Missions than last year; while for the support of the feeble churches in the State, the Board is at this time $28,551.33 in advance to the Synodical Aid Fund. The difference between success in New Jersey and partial failure as yet in New York, may probably be found partly in the fact, that in the one case the presbyteries have earnestly set themselves to carry out what the synod had resolved on, and in the other some of them have not done so.

The Synod of Illinois has lately inaugurated a plan of synodical aid, which its authors claim to be preferable to any of the eastern schemes yet tried, and as the result of which the Stated Clerk writes, that "already twenty churches have been lifted out of the death-throes, and put upon their feet."

The subject of synodical aid connects itself closely with the difficult but vital question as to the best method of saving and sustaining the feeble and decaying churches in the older States. Indeed, it is the condition of these churches that has suggested these synodical schemes, and the fact that these schemes are adopted or proposed is an encouraging indication that the strong synods and presbyteries are beginning to awake to the needs of their own weak places, and are disposed to provide for them, while not diminishing their contributions for frontier work.

NEW ENGLAND.

No new churches have been organized during the year. Those previously organized hold on their way, with varying degrees of success, yet on the whole with an evident growth and gain which justifies the work. It is the Board's settled aim and policy in this region, not to build up distinctively American churches, or to attract members from other denominations to our own, but to put Presbyterian church ordinances within reach of new comers, who from training and conviction prefer them, and are for the time unable to support them unaided.

OUR FOREIGN POPULATION.

One in every seven of the population of the United States is foreign-born. One in every three is of foreign parentage. One in every six is foreign-speaking. Of foreigners, as a whole, a large majority are Romanists, including most of the Irish, Bohemians and French. Of those of foreign speech, on the contrary, a majority are Protestants—the Scandinavians, the Dutch, and three-fifths of the Germans. The Germans are very largely agriculturists, in the Central West. There are many counties in several States, as Texas, exclusively occupied by them. There are 400,000 Germans in New York City, and 40,000 Bohemians. There are Bohemian communities in Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Texas and elsewhere. The Scandinavians, as already noted in this report, form perhaps onethird of the people of Minnesota. There are large numbers of them in Utah.

The Presbyterian Church has not accomplished as much in this direction as the German, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational. But a new interest in this work has recently been developed throughout the Church. The Board hardly needed to be aroused on the subject. Indeed, it has repeatedly urged it on the attention of the General Assembly. How much foreign work shall be done, and how soon, is not for the Board, but for the Church to determine. When the Board closes the year, as now, with a heavy debt, it can hardly be said not to have gone far enough in any given line of work. New Presbyterian churches have been organized this year among Scandinavians, Bohemians and Germans. difficulty is that of finding fit missionaries speaking these tongues. Our struggling German theological seminaries are doing their best, which would be much better if their scanty means were increased. Several young Bohemians are already employed, and others are preparing. It is thought that others still may come from Bohemia to engage in the work. A young Spanish missionary of training and experience has lately begun work among Spanishspeaking people in New York City. Let the Church out of her vast resources furnish the means, and the Board will have the ability, as it certainly has the inclination, in pursuance of the Master's promise, to plan and do "greater things than these."

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

There is no need of repeating what was said in the last two reports as to the increase of interest and activity and success, of late years, in this great department of mission enterprise. Its relative size and importance are evident from the fact that already one-quarter of our population dwell in cities, and the further fact that this concentration is both steady and increasing. The list of cities in which church extension is earnestly pressed is larger this year than ever before. The work is both difficult and costly, but promising and fruitful, and at the same time more and more necessary. The Board stands ready to respond to all its claims and calls, to the full extent of the Church's will, as shown by the means it furnishes.

THE BOARD OF CHURCH ERECTION.

The Board of Home Missions has always found this Board its willing and sympathetic helper. We have had repeated proofs this past year of its readiness to render to the utmost its indispensable and timely aid, in assisting to a church home the congregations gathered and organized by the missionaries on the field.

THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH SCHOOL WORK.

We make hearty acknowledgment this year, as last year, of the invaluable aid rendered to Home Mission work by the kindred labors of the scores of missionaries sent out during the summer months by this Board.

WOMAN'S WORK.

This department of the Board's work is entirely school-work, under the care of the Woman's Executive Committee of Home Missions, among the Indians, Mormons, Mexicans and Southern mountain whites. The schools, with a few exceptions, are all in the Indian Territory, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Alaska, North Carolina and Tennessee. There are 118 schools, 368 officers and teachers in charge, and 7,478 pupils. The work has cost this year $286,371.84. The present grand dimensions of the work have been reached in less than twelve years. In 1878 the Woman's Executive Committee was organized, and in the first year the income was not more than $5,000. Including gifts for Freedmen, it is now $337,841.89. A great enthusiasm has been kindled; the best women of the Church have been enlisted; societies have been formed in synods, presbyteries, congregations and Sabbath-schools, and information has been steadily distributed. The work is hard, slow and costly. Great care is taken to select teachers well approved and accredited in regard to character, piety, experience and aptness to teach. No part of the teachers' salaries can be looked for from the field, as in the case of most home missionaries, so that the expenditure is relatively large. The Indians, Mormons and Mexicans are hard to win and Christianize and Americanize. Bigotry, ignorance and indifference bar the way. Then the work of building chapels and schools on distant fields is very difficult and very expensive. Great labor is expended very successfully on the Committee's organ, the Home Mission Monthly, which is self-supporting. It is not easy in a few sentences to set forth the magnitude and multiplicity of the work of the Woman's Executive Committee. The necessary correspondence is very large and difficult, and perplexing questions are constantly arising for settlement. The ability, zeal and persistent energy of those who have given heart and hand to this work have won, as they have deserved, the admiration and confidence of the whole Church. They have been nobly supported by thousands of our worthiest Christian women, whose zeal and ambition have been kindled by contact with their own. The thing now most to be desired and aimed at is to attract to a participation in this wonderful work other thousands and tens of thousands of equally noble women throughout the Presbyterian Church who have not as yet been led to take hold of it.

The past year has not been less marked by progress and success in this work than those preceding it. The main drawback has been that the work has outrun the means. Large as has been the income, it has not met the demands of even the cautious and limited expansion which has been ventured on. The new work has in large part been both suggested and provided for by special gifts for the purpose—as for instance, the Oakland Institute at Asheville, N. C., the purchase money for which was entirely thus furnished. Other new work, on the contrary, has involved much added expense. It should be noted that this is especially true of the work transferred from the Board of Forcign Missions, which has made necessary considerable additional appropriations.

A complete list of the teachers will be found in the appendix. The new schools opened during the past year are given below, with the names of those having them in charge:

This work has encountered serious obstacles and some disasters during the past year; and yet it may be affirmed of it in general, that it has progressed and prospered. For instance, the boardingschool at Tahlequah, the Cherokee capital, on a commanding site overlooking the town, is a model of neatness and good order. Old Dwight Mission, in the heart of the Cherokee forest, with its new buildings, present and prospective, is a centre of elevating influence among the full-bloods. After an addition which will complete the main building this year, it is proposed to fit up an old cottage for the accommodation of a dozen more girls, and a teacher to superintend them. The next important step, if the work of this mission is to be perfected, should be the addition of a building with adjacent farm for boys at some distance from the present premises, and on a higher and better site. The outlay of $10,000 for this purpose would give to the men, as well as the women, the Christian training necessary to secure well-ordered households in the next generation. The girls' boarding-school at Muscogee, with its two cottage homes, is doing an invaluable work. At Wealaka the school building was last year condemned and vacated, thoroughly rebuilt and improved, and the school re-opened in December. It was just getting into full working order when on March 7th it was destroyed by fire. It will rest with the Creek nation, whose property it is, to say whether the building shall be restored, and the school resumed. The school at Wewoka, among the Seminoles, after a long and useful career, is now in a transition state, a new building being in process of erection by the nation in a different locality. The girls' boarding-school at Wheelock, and the Spencer Academy for boys, in the Choctaw nation, are prosperous and strong. In New Mexico, the Albuquerque Indian school has measurably recovered from its two fires, occupies one new brick building, and is about to add another. The school at Isleta, a large pueblo of 1,200 souls, is maintained with patient perseverance, in spite of the great hindrance of the irregular attendance of the children, and the discouraging indifference of the parents. The school for the Pimas at Tucson, Arizona, has lately received the unqualified encomium of the Rev. Dr. Dorchester, inspector of schools in the Indian Department at Washington. Gen. Armstrong, of Hampton, not long since pronounced our Good Will Mission School among the Sisseton Sioux in South Dakota to be a model school. Mexican training school at Santa Fé has recently occupied its fine new brick building, a picture of which may be seen in the March number of The Church at Home and Abroad. Up to that time teachers and pupils had had a trying experience in the old dilapidated and over-crowded adobe buildings, which were quite unfit for the purpose. The Sitka native training school has added new buildings for boys' hospital, boys' reading room, museum, and other purposes, and still further improvements and additions in both buildings and industrial training are under way or within sight. Collegiate Institute at Salt Lake City is probably the best school in Utah. Its able principal and teachers have done a noble work, notwithstanding the great embarrassment of insufficient accommodations and appliances. Our church at Ogden has within the year doubled its membership, and trebled its congregation and Sabbathschool. The present church and school sites have been sold at an advance, and the buildings for both will be erected without delay on the fine central lot which has long been awaiting them. The new Academy building at Logan, the chief town in the beautiful

Cache Valley, will soon be finished. Several new school chapels in other places have been completed, or soon will be. All school and mission work in Utah has received a much needed impulse and encouragement from the "Gentile" victory a year ago in Ogden, which will probably be in time the chief city of Utah, and from the recent similar success in Salt Lake City, where there was for the first time an American majority. Other important towns in the Territory, such as Logan, Hyrum and Spanish Fork, will probably follow in the same direction before long. It is the beginning of the end. It is the turn of a tide which can hardly turn back again. It is a grand relief and reward for the devoted missionaries and teachers who have held on and held out so long and so well on that hard field. Among the mountain whites of the South, the Home Industrial School at Asheville, N. C., with one hundred and forty girls, is admirably efficient and successful; and the Oakland Institute close by it, with its splendid site, buildings and equipment, opened last autumn with the hope and promise which it needs only time and opportunity to fulfill, of fitting young women, by a higher grade of training and instruction, not only for general usefulness, but for special work as missionary teachers. In the former school (especially) there has been a marked religious influence.

We have given only a few specimens at random from the work in this broad field. As to the new work in sight, the grant of land in the Umatilla reservation in Oregon for school purposes has been already mentioned. An industrial school is in contemplation on the quarter section granted some time ago among the Kiowas and Comanches, in the Indian Territory, if the means shall be forthcoming; and the United States Government has offered the Board an appropriation for a school for the natives at Point Barrow, Alaska, the northern-most point on the continent.

The following is a summary of the school work:

The above table shows the truly national character of the work of the Board. It has congregations and missionaries in forty-four of the forty-nine States and Territories of the Union. It has none in South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana. In New Jersey the Home Mission churches are supported by synodical aid independently of the Board, while contributions are still made as before to the Board's general work. It will be noticed that out of the 1,701 missionaries enumerated and classified above, no less than one hundred and ninety-nine are at work in Southern States. Our Church is national, and not sectional, and so is its Home Mission work.
